APPLIED LESSON & STUDIO FEES

A. Lesson Charge: The current cost for 14 weekly, one-hour lessons is $680 per semester. A pro-rated refund will be given if lessons are dropped during the first three weeks of the semester (officially, one week from the end of the University Add/Drop deadline). If lessons are dropped after this deadline no refund will be given. Beginning in 2013-14, all freshmen and sophomores will be charged for lessons regardless of major. Applied lessons in a second area will be billed to the student's account regardless of major.

B. Studio Fee: A studio fee of $50 per semester will be charged to all students enrolled in applied music lessons.

C. Credits: A minimum of one hour per week of applied lessons (i.e. .50 credit) is required of all music majors until proficiency requirements have been met. Any additional lessons will be charged at the current rate.

D. Course levels: The 170, 270, 370, 470 applied lesson designation will be determined by the student's year of study in an instrument. For example, a junior beginning piano lessons would enter at the 170 course level. (i.e. not 370).
