Grace Goudy Distinguished Artists Series director, Jean-David Coen and director emeritus, Anita King, invite SCO season-ticket holders to use their tickets for the 3 concerts on the 2015-16 Goudy Artists Series in recognition of the decades-long relationship between the Salem Chamber Orchestra and Willamette University, particularly Willamette’s Department of Music. It is their hope that the community of music lovers who have cherished the SCO will support the SCO and accept this “gift of music” by exchanging SCO tickets for the Goudy Series.

We are providing instructions for the ticket exchange on the Goudy Series website (www.willamette.edu/arts/goudyartistseries) and on a Music Department phone line (503-370-6255) where there will be a dedicated option on the messaging service for this purpose after 5pm. For further questions please contact Dr. Jean-David Coen (503-370-6064, jcoen@willamette.edu).

Please note that the first and third concerts are general seating (not reserved) and the second concert, pianist Kirill Gerstein, is reserved seating. Tickets will be exchanged quid pro quo, meaning the Goudy Series will not add or subtract charges. You should also note the ticket exchange deadline for each concert.
