

Willamette University Sponsored Programs Cost Matrix

Use this document to understand the costs associated with Willamette Sponsored Study Abroad Programs. Please contact the Office of International Education with any questions.

What is a Willamette Sponsored Program?

All the programs listed on this website are Willamette Sponsored Programs. Willamette programs are either facilitated by Willamette University, a third-party provider, a consortium to which Willamette belongs, or in conjunction with other universities in the case of established bilateral exchanges.

Cost

Willamette Sponsored Programs cost the same as on-campus studies. Costs are distributed as follows:

- Tuition: You may use all of your Willamette, federal, state and local financial aid for sponsored programs.
- Accommodation and Meals: Please see the information on the following pages for a detailed explanation of the room and board costs for each program and whether the cost is paid to Willamette or the host university or program. Students pay the cost of accommodation and meals to either a) Willamette and then receive accommodation and meals abroad, b) pay the host university or program directly, or c) a combination of the previous options. See the columns titled "Cost Paid to Willamette," "Housing" and "Meals" for more information. (If you do not find your program on this list please contact an Advisor at oeadvising@willamette.edu).
- Study Abroad Deposit: This $300 non-refundable deposit is due when you accept your placement to study abroad on a Willamette Sponsored Program, this fee will be applied to your tuition if you attend the program.
- Additional costs are very important to consider! Additional costs may include, but are not limited to:
 - a passport
 - airfare
 - visa or residency permit costs (when applicable)
 - domestic travel to apply for visa (when applicable)
 - additional health insurance
 - travel insurance (optional)
 - local transportation (when applicable)
 - Generally, students spend more money while they are abroad than during a typical semester at Willamette. These costs are usually associated with extra in-country and personal travel, eating out, entertainment, and purchasing gifts and souvenirs. If you would like more information about specific costs of the items mentioned above and/or the general affordability of study abroad, please contact an Advisor in the OIE.
 - See the Willamette University Sponsored Programs Cost Matrix for special cost considerations specific to your program(s).

Credit

When participating in a Willamette Sponsored Program, you earn Willamette credits, your grades appear on your transcript and those grades can be counted towards your GPA. (You may choose to include all or none of your credits; you cannot choose specific credits to count toward your GPA.) It is important to note that converting credits from foreign universities to Willamette credit is not a seamless process. During the pre-departure process you will be advised on how the Office of International Education, the Office of the Registrar and students work together to make sure the proper credit is awarded.

Please see the Office of International Education's website for more information including program types, program descriptions and application information.

DEADLINE: Willamette Sponsored Study Abroad Application for Fall 2012 and Spring 2013 is due on Friday, December 2, 2011 at 4:00pm in the Office of International Education. Applications received after the deadline will not be considered.
