

Jennifer Bartch

Post Office Box 306, Dayton, Oregon, 97114
503.550.1065
jbartch@gmail.com

Objective

Secondary Art Educator

My passion is dedicated to creating a safe and empowering learning environment for my students to explore and engage in the process of art: form, function, and fun. I will support the discovery of their own authentic voice and guide them in cultivating critical abstract thinking skills to gain both confidence and effectiveness in their expression, igniting their vision for all that is possible.

Education

- Masters of Arts in Teaching,
Art Endorsement, Middle School & High School
Willamette University, Salem, Oregon, May 2011
- Bachelor of Fine Arts, Graduated with Honors
Art Center College of Design, Pasadena, California, June 1984-Dec.1987
Lewis & Clark College, Portland, Oregon, Sept. 1982-May 1984

Related Educational Experience

- Student Teacher, McKay High School, Salem, Oregon, Feb.- June 2011
- Student Teacher, Judson Middle School, Salem, Oregon, Nov. 2010
- Volunteer, Dayton Elementary School, Dayton, Oregon, Sept. 2008-2009
- Volunteer, Queen of Peace Catholic School, Salem, Oregon, Sept. 2006-2009
- Volunteer & Art Literacy Educator, St. James Catholic School, K-5, McMinnville, Oregon, Sept. 2000-2005

Professional Experience

- Graphic Designer & Art Director, Sandstrom Design,
Portland, Oregon, Sept. 1989-1994

Professional Development

- Dr. Howard Gardner, October 2010
“The First Annual Creating Minds Symposium; Discussions on Creativity and the Future of Education”

National Teacher's Hall of Fame, September 2009

“From Surviving to Thriving!; Empowering the Early Career Teacher”

Dr. Harry Wong, September 2009

“How to Be a Successful & Effective Teacher”

Dr. Mike Charles, September 2009

“OTEN Inspiration Conference: The Integration of Technology Into Your Teaching”

Mary Hammond, MA, LPC, RPTC, June 2009

“Art & Therapy”

References Upon Request