Anglo-American Legal History
First Assignment

There are no prerequisites for this course. The Course Description is available on the College’s fourth floor next to the elevator. The final exam is a flex exam. There is one required book: Langbein, Lerner, & Smith, History of the Common Law: The Development of Anglo-American Legal Institutions (Wolters Kluwer, Aspen, 2009). During the semester, I will distribute in class several readings or charts to further understanding of the subject or to aid in exam preparation.

Please read and be prepared to ask or answer questions about the materials in chapter 1 of the course book, pages 1-27.

The class meets on MW from 10:50 to 12:20 p.m., currently assigned to room 216.
