Games: Design, Strategy, Philosophy, and Society
Writing Assignment: Complex Game Review

In 600–800 words, write a review of the game your group was taught this week. Your review should include:

- A description of the game, including an explanation of the theme and summary of the rules, emphasizing characteristics of the game you felt were unique or original.

- A discussion of one or more features of the game you thought worked well, and one or more features you thought could be improved, using information about the game to support your arguments. It’s not enough to say “I liked this thing about the game.” Readers should be able to make an informed decision based on your review about whether they would like or dislike the game for the same reason.

- A conclusion synthesizing your thoughts on the game.

Submit a copy of your review on WISE on or before Tuesday September 8. Each person should write their own review.